ONE OF 10 COUNTIES

NODAWAY SUNDAY SCHOOLS TOOK HIGH RANK.

MISS EVA DAVIS RETURNS

Tells of Very Successful Convention in St. Louis Attended by 1,461 Delegates—"Forward" is Motto.

Miss Eva M. Davis, secretary of the Nodaway County Sunday School association and the county's representative at the state convention in St. Louis, returned last night from attending the meeting.

She reports that the convention was attended by 1,461 delegates from 73 counties and the three large cities, all of whom were very enthusiastic about the program, which was arranged and the way it was carried out. It was the greatest convention clearly, she said.

Beside being one of the first twenty-two counties in the front line honors of the association, Nodaway county was one of ten which attained the standard set for elementary work. A pennant was sent to Miss N. Elizabeth Evans, county elementary superintendent.

Twenty-three counties have been organized this year. The three state workers have made twenty tours of a week each, thus reaching 98 of the 114 counties. Ninety-three are now organized. Fourteen efficiency meetings were conducted.

$3,000 Raised at Convention.

One of the fine things of the convention was the raising of $3,000 in the executive committee to pay off the debt which had arisen from deficits in the state work. The treasurer's report announced all bills paid and $485 in the funds. A strong appeal was made for better financial support from the live counties to help carry on the work where there is less enthusiasm. Two more field workers are badly needed.

The climax of the convention was reached Thursday night when an illustrated lecture on the famous Sunday schools of America was given. The singing was led by a large chorus and orchestra from the St. Louis churches. Dr. Frank G. Smith of Kansas City spoke on the motto for the coming year, "Forward."

The "jubilee" banquet celebrating the anniversary of the first state convention held in St. Louis fifty years ago was one of the most enjoyable features of the week. A poem, "Mother," written by one of the delegates and sung at this banquet, attracted much attention.

Two of the most important measures considered by the Missouri State Sunday School association during its golden jubilee convention, which ended Thursday night at the Third Baptist church in St. Louis was the question of uniform graded lessons for Sunday schools and the credit for Bible study to high school graduates.

Dr. J. H. George of Springfield, Mo., former president of Drury college, recommended to the convention that the executive committee appoint a special committee to confer with the officers of the Missouri Teachers' association, and to devise a plan for the giving of such credits. He said in part:

"In North Dakota the plan has been worked out, and is more than in its experimental stage. Protestants, Catholics and Jews entered into a plan of promoting out-of-school study of the Bible as literature for high school credits. In Colorado and Indiana, especially in Gary, plans for credit in high schools have been adopted, which involve the study of the Bible not only as literature, but also for distinctly religious purposes.

Must Standardize Sunday Schools.

"The Colorado plan provides for a four-year elective course of Bible study for high school students, which shall be adapted to the unfolding life of the pupils correlated with the curriculum of the high schools. These courses of study are to be given by the respective churches, Hebrew, Catholic and Protestant alike, at the Sunday school hour, if possible, and under instruction of qualified teachers.

"Pupils successfully completing the course of study shall receive academic credit for the work done. The plan is clearly within the law. No state or public school building is used for religious instruction. No state funds are used. No religious instruction is given by public school teachers during school hours. Each denomination, each sect is, therefore, privileged to impart instruction to its own children, and according to its own canons of interpretation.

"This plan necessitates the standardization of our Sunday schools. If the pupils are to receive academic credit for work done in Sunday schools, these schools must conform to academic standards of education."

The officers of the Missouri Sunday School association were elected to succeed themselves for the year of 1915-16.

UP-TO-DATE CHILDREN NOW

For Example, Look at This Note of Thanks by Sixth Grade of Training School.

School children in this day and age sure believe in doing things just about right. A group of pupils under the leadership of Miss Fannie Hope were shown through the mechanical department of this company last week.

Yesterday through the mail came this note all in proper form:

Maryville, Mo.—Democrat-Forum: Dear Sir—The pupils of the sixth grade of the training school wish to thank you for the kindness shown us while visiting The Democrat-Forum office.

Respectfully,
EVELYN RAINES.

NORMAL ANNUAL WANTED

EDITORIAL APPEAL MADE BY THE GREEN AND WHITE COURIER.

Question Is Giving Seniors All Kinds of Discussions—To Be 1915-16 Crowning Glory.

Many of the members of the senior class at the Normal are anxious for the publication of a first annual. The Green and White Courier publishes the following editorial appeal in their issue out yesterday:

To those who have been watching the progress of Number Five it was evident that the year 1915-16 was to see the beginning of many new things which would place our school in the front rank of the schools of this or any other state of the middle west.

The years 1914-15 and 16 have meant much to Number Five and what we now need, to serve as a grand climax to all the past achievements, is a good, live annual, one that will stand the test of the most severe criticism.

The question, "Shall we put out an annual?" is one over which the Senior class has had many heated yet enthusiastic discussions and as a result they have decided that it can be done. They are aware of the fact that to get out a good annual is a task that is realized by very few people and one which requires the support not only of every class but indeed of every individual in school.

The Seniors also know that it will cost money, and that it will mean an almost endless amount of labor but they feel that for the good of the school they are ready to bear their part of the expense and do their share of the work.

The time to get ready for this annual is here. It is NOW. But in doing this the Seniors must feel that they have the support and co-operation of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Alumni.

This annual will not only be of interest to us at the present but we will find that in the years to come, when we dig it out, dust-covered, from some obscure corner of the garret, it will contain treasures unspeakable. It will carry our memories back to the best days of our life—to the dear old days at Number Five during the years 1915-16 and will reveal faces of friends, with whom we have parted, perhaps, forever.

Since this annual is to mean so much to us in the present and in the future let us one and all talk for it, push for it, pray for it, and in the end BUY it. Let us add the crowning glory to Number Five in the year 1915-16—her first annual.

5 TEAMS TO SPEAK

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES WILL DISCUSS UNION.

PLANNED BY PRESIDENTS

Three Speakers Will Lead Service Tomorrow On Federation Theme—Permanent Next Tuesday.

The Union of Young People's societies will be the topic for discussion in each of the young people's meeting tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock. A team of three will go from other churches to each society to lead the discussion.

The purpose for organizing such a union, the definite objects toward which the federation of societies may turn their efforts and the need for each individual member of the societies getting alive on the need and privilege of such a union will be the chief topics discussed.

The Christian Endeavor at the Christian church, the Young People's club at the Presbyterian church, and the league of the Buchanan Street Methodist church have adopted the constitution which was drawn up by the temporary organization committee. The presidents and the representatives of the societies will meet next Tuesday night in the pastor's study of the Buchanan Street Methodist church for permanent organization.

The personnel of the teams which will visit each society tomorrow night is: At Christian church, Virgil Hartness, Jeanette Mutz and Joseph Farmer; at Baptist, Ed W. Gray, Miss Mary Rooker and Phillip Colbert; at Buchanan Street Methodist, Miss Bertha Anderson, Miss Edna O'Neal and Ray Davis; at First Methodist, Vernon Nash, Mrs. E. B. Burnett and Martin Lewis, Jr.; at Presbyterian, I. B. Williams, Miss Helen Gilson and Glen Borchers.

The teams will merely lead the discussion at the beginning of the service, after which a general expression of opinion and criticism will be called for from the members of the societies. The first named on the teams will be the leader of the meeting.

RAY COOK MUCH BETTER.

Mrs. J. F. Cook Gets Telegram From Husband at Berkeley, Cal.

Ray Cook, who has been very ill at Berkeley, Cal., where he is attending the University of California, is much better according to a telegram to his mother, Mrs. J. F. Cook, from her husband.

Mr. Cook went to California early this week when a message came telling of his son's serious illness. A nervous breakdown from overwork was given as the cause of his sickness.

"GO-GETTERS" GOTTEN 22-8.

Lisle Hanna's "Krupps" Go On Ever-Victorious Games.

The "Go-Getters" were gotten in a rather one-sided game in the Normal tournament last night by the "Krupps," under Chief Gunner Lisle Hanna. The score was 22-8. The line-ups change slightly in each game.

The winners' order on the firing line yesterday was Lisle Hanna and Clement Hahn, forwards; Chauncey Saville center; Harold Demoss and Ralph Farmer, guards. The losers were: Harold Sawyers and Malcolm Wells, guards; W. E. Wakeman, center; Gerald Shirkey and Harold Staples, forwards.

TO KANSAS CITY MEETING.

Nodaway County is Represented at the State Progressive Party Meeting Today.

Fred P. Robinson and John H. Sewell of Maryville are attending the Progressive party meeting in Kansas City today. George W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the national Progressive committee, is in attendance at the meeting. The meeting is a "get-together" meeting with a view to outlining plans for next year.

Messrs. Seweil and Robinson made the trip to Kansas City in Mr. Robinson's car. Mrs. Robinson accompanied them and will visit with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller

UTAH GOVERNOR STARTS FIGHT AGAINST LAWLESSNESS.

Wires All Sheriffs That They Will Be Held Strictly Responsible—Agitators Leaving.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Salt Lake, Nov. 20.—The greatest crusade which has ever been waged against lawlessness in Utah is on, as a result of Industrial Workers of the World leaders over the execution of Joseph Hillstrom.

Governor Spry has notified sheriffs of all counties that they will be held responsible for disorders. Business men throughout the state have rallied to the support of the governor, who said that the militia will be called out if necessary. Agitators are less belligerent and several are planning to leave the state.

NO PROBE OF MILLER FIRE

Savannah Court Hears That Rumors Around Death of William Gurdyke Are Just Gossip.

The following report in the Savannah Reporter indicates that an investigation of the Charles Miller fire, near Whitesville, will not be made by the grand jury at Savannah.

Those living in the neighborhood of the Miller home say that there could be nothing brought up before the grand jury and that all these rumors are without foundation.

That William Gurdyke had over five hundred dollars on his person that night, that he had it because he was reputed to be a gambler, that because he slept in the northeast room and his body after the fire was found in the southeast room, that because of all this it was rumored that he was killed for his money and the house burned to conceal it are the stories told to some one who listens and tells them again.

Those of that community are sure there is nothing whatever that could be brought before the grand jury.

CONQUESTCOMPLETE

BIG GUNS ON GALLIPOLI

Early Victory by Germany Seen by Berlin in Dardanelles—Russians May Cross Roumania.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Nov. 20.—Every city and town of importance in Servia, with the exception of Nhrda, are now in the possession of the Teutonic allies.

South Monastir and Kesturum have fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians, who are making furious efforts to press the Serbs-Anglo-French forces into Greece in order to precipitate a situation so as to cause Greece to take decisive action.

Vienna and Bucharest reports are to the effect that the Servians are surrounded on three sides and retreat seriously menaced by the advance of the Teutons.

Sofia reports officially that the attacks of the Bulgarians in southeastern Servia have compelled the French to retreat.

German Guns to Dardanelles.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—German guns of large caliber have reached Constantinople and are being sent to Gallipoli. Military experts forsee early ending of the Dardanelles campaign in favor of the Teutons, and already preparations for an active offensive on another front by the Teutons are being made.

Roumania to Permit Passage.

Bucharest, Nov. 20.—In a statement today, former Minister of War Filipesco says that Roumania will permit Russian troops to cross Roumanian territory if they are in sufficient numbers to cope with the armies which are assailing the Servians.

It was added that a large Russian army would probably arrive at the frontier in a fortnight.

Steady Progress for Italians.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—Private advices say that the Italian army is steadily progressing along the Issonzo front.

Portuguese Cabinet Quits.

Lisbon, Nov. 20.—All members of the cabinet of Portugal, except Premier Castro have resigned. The president has asked the prime minister to form another cabinet.

London, Nov. 20.—Military experts believe that the next offensive of the Teutonic forces will be a renewed effort to break through to Paris again if they are successful in the Dardanelles.

London, Nov. 20.—A French transport with cavalry and eight hundred troops were sunk in the Mediterranean sea by a German submarine.

Kansas City Now 375,620.

Since their big duck feed, the Missouri "Tigers" have been showing great strength and fattening up their averages. They defeated Drake, you know.

A good many young people, in their haste to get married overlook the item of preparedness. When want makes a landing and attacks an unfortified larder, peace is sometimes difficult to maintain.

There are evidences that Congressman Kitchin may have so much objecing to do in his capacity as an individual that he won't have much time to act as leader of the majority in the next congress. Mr. Kitchin is, of course, entitled to views of his own and is to be admired for independent thought, but in his capacity as majority leader he must lead, and not balk, if he is to maintain party coherence and party success. In the past congress Oscar Underwood and Champ Clark frequently differed from the president's views on the details or advisability of a measure, but when it came to the floor of the house they were always on the firing line battling for harmony and party solidarity.

Of the twenty-two counties which were accorded the "front line" rank by the Missouri state Sunday school organization, it is worthy of note that five of those counties are in this, the fourth congressional district. They are Andrew, Atchison, Holt, Nodaway and Platte. If Buchanan had only been good, too, the district would have been complete. However, since the remaining seventeen counties are divided among fifteen other districts, it is easy to see that we of this district have broken the record and are entitled to feel elated at the distinction. Our children at least are setting an example for the balance of the state.

CARE OF CHICKENS

WINTER QUARTERS SHOULD BE CLEAR AND WARM.

WORMS GREAT DANGER

Recommendations for Ridding Fowls of Parasites Given by Experiment Station of Missouri.

At this time of the year when preparation is being made for the winter housing of poultry, one must consider both the proper construction of the buildings and the future physical condition of his birds.

The ultimate strength and vitality of a fowl depend upon the cleanliness and the healthfulness of the organs through which the food passes on its journey through the body of the fowl. If injury should occur to the delicate cells which line the organs of digestion and absorption, the physical condition is affected and vitality is lowered which means eventually sickness and disease. Roup, Canker and even the dread scourge of White Diarrhea may take hold of the fowls, especially those of lowered vitality, with the result that loss follows.

The small cells lining the organs of digestion and absorption, especially those cells lining the intestines often are ruptured to a very marked degree, by the presence of worms. Ruptured cells mean the loss of the function of these cells. That is, the cells are not able to perform their duties to secrete juices which digest the food, and consequently a large amount of the food eaten is not utilized by the fowl. It follows then that birds which are infested with worms do not derive the full nutrient value of the food. If worms are present they have to be fed and the food thus eaten is fed at the expense of the fowl. It is easily seen that from every standpoint, the presence of worms is a losing proposition.

Healthy poultry, both inside and out, are able to ward off to a very marked degree the action of bacteria or bacterial poisons. Weakened poultry are not able to withstand or ward off the action of bacteria or bacterial poisons and consequently suffer.

When it is pointed out that there are no fewer than thirty-six (36) species of worms living as parasites within fowls, it will be seen that these parasites are innurious to the fowls. Worms may develop directly from the eggs of the worms or they may go through various and complicated changes. They are found in every conceivable locality.

The general health and physical condition of a fowl may be judged to a certain extent by observing carefully the color of the bird's comb, eyes, wattles, etc., but birds apparently in the best of health, may have worms in their intestines in small numbers and after awhile, owing to the growth of these worms, the physical condition of the bird will change. The bird that was apparently in the best of health soon is on the sick list. It may take weeks or even months before a change in the physical condition of the bird becomes apparent, but once the worms gain the upper hand, the birds become subject to colds, and colds becoming deep seated, the loss of the bird is sure to follow.

In view of these facts, it is advisable and strongly recommended that the fowls should be given a thorough cleansing out before being placed in winter quarters. Where individual treatment cannot be resorted to the flock may be treated in the following manner:

Measure out just enough mash, all that the fowls will thoroughly clean up at one time. Moisten the mash with water and add to the mash one teaspoonful of Oil of American Wormseed (Jerusalem Oak) and one teaspoonful of turpentine, for every twelve fowls. Mix the ingredients thoroughly.

Before feeding the mash, the birds should be starved for at least twelve hours. We recommend feeding a light ration the night before and then in the morning no difficulty will be experienced in having the fowls eat the treated mash. Ordinarily if the fowls are not very hungry, they will not eat the mash for the taste of oil of wormseed and the turpentine is not pleasant. Feed the treated mash again in the evening of the same day. On the morning of the second day, a dose of Epsom salts should be given. The salts may be given in a mash. Dissolve six (6) teaspoonfuls of Epsom salts for every twelve fowls in just enough water to moisten the mash. The amount of mash used varies according to the breed of fowls and to the individual attendant. Moisten the mash with this water and then feed.—Missouri Poultry Experiment Station.

SALOON KEEPER ANSWERS

A saloon keeper in an argument against the wets and charging them with winninw an election by buying negro votes is the unusual spectacle at Moberly. The letter of the liquor man, who spoke for the drys during the election, follows in part:

To the editor of the Republic: In answer to an article which appeared in your paper yesterday I desire to say that I have been a subscriber for years, and that the informant of the article which I mention above was on his high horse when he put 52 lines with a heading in two and one-half inches and mailed it for your publication. It is a fact that I am always broke, and always need money, but I am paying more taxes than he does and maybe more than any other saloon man in town.

I did not say that I would close my saloon, but told my audience that if Moberly stays wet I would keep on selling until I got my price for the business; but would cheerfully close up January 1, 1916, with the rest of them if it went dry.

The deal which was pulled off at the Lyric hall at the eleventh hour Monday night among 400 or 500 colored voters saved the day for the saloons For most of them would have voted dry had it not been for the sack which was opened at the right hour, and there is no doubt but what it was opened, believe me.

Without their vote this old town of Moberly would have been dry today. Your informant left his rooster at home when he gave you the returns, as he only used seven lines. There was no holler coming with him. In 1908 there were 2,343 votes cast. The wets captured 1,608 and the drys 735, a majority for the wets of 873. Last Tuesday there were 3,113 votes cast, the wets got 1,811 and the drys 1,302, which left a measly majority for the wets of 509.

CHILD LABOR BILL AGAIN

Women's Club Indorse Provision to Prohibit Interstate Commerce of Goods Made by Children.

Three state federations of women's clubs went on record in one week as favoring the federal bill to prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of child-made goods. They were the Pennsylvania, Indiana and New Jersey Federation representing more than 15,000 women.

The action taken by these women is the direct result of the national child labor committee's second campaign for a federal child labor law. The bill which the committee has drafted will be introduced in congress early in December and is similar in form to the Palmer-Owen bill which passed the House of Rrepresentatives last year by an overwhelming majority but was defeated in the senate by the objection of Senator Overman of North Carolina. If the bill passes it will prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of goods in the production of which children under 14 have been employed in factories, or under 16 more than 8 hours a day or at night, or under 16 in mines or quarries.

Endorsements and offers of cooperation from organizations and individuals are daily pouring into the offices of the national child labor committee and the committee is confident that the bill will be passed by the next congress.

GOOD ROADS HELP SCHOOLS

Improved Highways and Schoolmaster Are Two Greatest Forces for Advanced Civilization.

Women are keenly interested in the schools. The country having good roads nearly always has good schools. They go together. Where children are forced to cross fields to avoid mud holes in the highways the school is usually hardly worth keeping open. It has been said that "the two greatest forces for the advancement of civilization are the schoolmaster and good roads."

Bad roads in this country are said to be responsible for a loss of a billion dollars a year. This affects the transportation, mercantile and industrial interests as well as the purely agricultural interests. This loss in dollars does not take account of the isolation that is caused by the same reason.

Many women in the country are practically prisoners in their homes for weeks at a time in winter because of the condition of the roads. They are unable to see to the marketing of the farm products. They are unable to take advantage of market conditions. Eggs that are a good price at the time when they are gathered are collected and held till the roads become passable. By that time a change in the market may have robbed them of several dollars that would have been theirs had they been able to get the produce to market.

The First Thanksgiving.

The first fixed and official day of Thanksgiving was held in the year 1665. In the old public records of the court of Connecticut we find the following order which the court issued on October 12, 1665, appointing a day of general thanksgiving:

"This court doth appoint a solemn day of Thanksgiving to be kept throughout this colony on the last Wednesday of November, to return praise to God for His great mercy to us in the continuation of our liberties and privileges both civil and ecclesiastic, and for our peace and preventing those troubles that we feared by foreign enemies and for the blessings in the fruits of the earth and the general health of the plantations."

It will be noted that the appointed day was Wednesday instead of Thursday, as we now celebrate. The spelling is odd in many cases.—Parnell Sentinel.

BUSINESS BOOMING

CASH REGISTER PRESIDENT TELLS OF PROSPERITY.

PRAISES NEW SYSTEMS

John H. Patterson Has Just Signed Big Advertising Contract—Advises Merchants Likewise.

Dayton, Ohio, November 20.—In the convention of salesmen of the National Cash Register Company, gathered here from all parts of this continent, reports were made indicating the general improvement of business everywhere. Out of the eight hundred salesmen present, all but one said that his territory was moving fast toward a business boom.

On the basis of these reports, John H. Patterson, president and general manager of the Cash Register Company, predicted that the approaching era of prosperity would probably exceed anything this country has ever known.

As a preface to his remarks, he reviewed the business depression of the previous two years. This, he said, had affected all lines—agriculture, mining, industry, commerce and finance.

"Now," he continued, "the boom is on. Agricultural interests are the first to feel it. The farmers have record breaking crops, with a big demand. Confidence has been re-established. Various industries have picked up, one after another. Then the stores needed goods, and factory wheels began to move. Then commerce and transportation reflected the change. Finally, it was manifest in the financial world. We have plenty of money and the best banking system in the world today.

"We have three big federal organizations taking care of these various interests: First, the Interstate Commerce Commission; then came the Federal Trade Commission; and finally, the Federal Reserve Board, with its chain of reserve banks. The value of these three boards or commissions to the country cannot be estimated.

"Through the aid of the reserve banks, the various banking institutions of the country began to loan money where people could not get it before. Now, with big crops and big demands, with little foreign competition, we are at the commencement of an era of prosperity such as this country has never seen before.

"All this great prosperity cannot come in a day, it will take time. But conditions everywhere are improving. The farmers are prosperous, the mills of Pittsburg are busier than ever before. Railroad stocks are going up. It is only a question of a short time before the wave of prosperity will be upon us.

"Now is the time for the storekeepers to advertise," added Mr. Patterson. He is backing up his opinion with his money. His company is spending more than $200,000 this month for advertising.

MOTHER, DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is ofttimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

GROUP OF SALADS.

A very pretty and simple salad is prepared by coring, then peeling, good-shaped apples; slice in thin slices and dip in a well-seasoned French dressing; lay on lettuce or cress and fill the center with chopped nuts and celery mixed with dressing and garnish the top of each with a small round ball of cream cheese.

Beet Salad.—Slice cooked beets very thin and place on the white leaves of lettuce. Put the yolks of six hard-cooked eggs through a ricer and make a garnish for the beets; chop the whites very fine and arrange around the yolks. Serve with boiled dressing.

Eastern Salad.—Cook four eggs hard; remove the shells and cut the egg in slices, removing the yolk; rub the yolk to a paste; add gradually two tablespoonfuls of oil, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, salt and cayenne to taste. Mix lightly into this dressing a cupful of grated cheese and a cupful of finely chopped chicken. Garnish with the rings of egg whites. Serve in lettuce nests.

Spinach Salad.—Boil a pint of spinach until tender, drain and press out; remove the water; chop fine; add horse-radish, oil and salt to season. Pack in small custard cups or timbie molds; allow it to get chilled. Serve on lettuce leaves with dressing and garnish with hard-cooked whites of eggs, which have been cut in eighths to resemble daisy petals.

Marine Salad.—Scoop out the inside of unpeeled cucumbers to resemble a small green boat. Chop the pulp fine and mix with an equal quantity of chopped onion; season with French dressing or any boiled dressing, fill the boat and with a toothpick place the place card to resemble a sail.

Pea and Pickle Salad.—Take a can of green peas, a cupful of chopped peanuts and six sour pickles, also chopped. Drain the liquor from the peas, add the nuts and pickles and any good salad dressing. Serve on crisp heart leaves of lettuce.

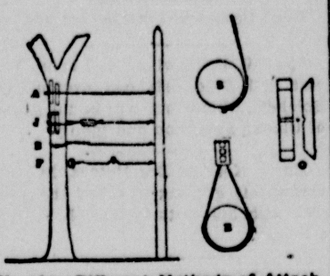
PREVENT INJURY FROM WIRES

Constantly Increasing Use of Electricity Proving Great Menace to Various Kinds of Trees.

(By GEORGE E. STONE.)

The increase in electric railroads, electric lighting systems and telephone lines, whose wires are usually located near the tree belts of our cities and towns has made necessary a lamentable amount of disfiguring pruning.

Of all the troubles with which tree wardens have to contend the wire problem is often regarded as the worst. Notwithstanding the strict laws which some states have adopted in regard to injuring shade trees, the agents of some public-service corporations often have little regard for trees or the laws respecting them. Where 40-foot poles must carry the wires of three or four public-service corporations there can be little or no opportunity to preserve the natural symmetry of shade trees, especially when low branching maples and other trees are planted on the same side of the street with the wires. There is less interference from limbs with low than with high-tension wires. Trees like the elm, whose branches form acute angles offer less obstruction to wires than maples; but not all streets, of course, are planted with elms, which may be as well, considering their susceptibility to various pests and unfavorable climatic conditions.



Showing Different Methods of Attaching Wires to Trees: a, Wire Attached to Lagbail, Tree Protected by Wooden Blocks; z, Cross Section of Same; b, Wire Loops Placed Tightly Around Tree, Causing Girdling; f, Sling Attachment of Trolley Guy Wires; j, Loose Loop Fastened With Clamps and Separated From Tree by Blocks; e, Cross Section of Same; o, Creosoted Oak Blocks With Groove, to Support the Wire.

Wires often accidentally come into contact with trees by the displacement of poles, particularly on curves, where the strain is very great, but much of this injury may be prevented by imbedding the poles in Portland cement. It should be pointed out that the necessity for guying poles to trees may be obviated in this way.

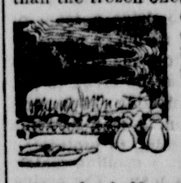
SUMMER DISHES.

There is no dessert more popular than the frozen one, in fact almost any combination is welcome after it has been through the freezer.



Orange Sherbet.—Beat one egg lightly, add it to a quart of milk, and a pint of cream. Dissolve two and a half cupfuls of sugar in the juice of three oranges and one lemon. Add the grated rind of three oranges and one lemon, mix and freeze.

Lemon Dumplings.—Chop the rind of one lemon fine, add it to the juice, mix two cupfuls of bread crumbs with a cupful of suet, add one egg and enough milk to make a paste, sweeten to taste, divide into five portions and place in seperate cloths. Boil three quarters of an hour and serve with butter and honey.

Stuffed Mutton.—Take a four pound breast of mutton and put to cook with one turnip, a carrot and two onions. Grate half of each vegetable into the stew and slice the rest. Cover with water and simmer one hour. Prepare a stuffing of bread, chopped onion, suet, sage, salt and pepper, bind with milk. Take out the mutton, carefully remove the bones and place the stuffing in, roll up and tie with a string. Put into a baking dish with some halved potatoes and bake for half an hour.

Individual Cream Chicken.—Take a tablespoonful of minced chicken, season with a pinch of minced parsley and a squeeze of lemon. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with a spoonful of cream. Put into a ramekin, cover and steam in hot water. Serve on a hot plate with crisp buttered toast and small pats of sweet butter rolled in parsley.

Gooseberry Dessert.—Cook slowly a quart of gooseberries with a cupful of brown sugar in a stone dish in the oven. Arrange slices of sponge cake in a dish, pour over the cooked berries a custard made of a cupful of milk, an egg, a pinch of salt and a tablespoonful of sugar. When cold cover with sweetened whipped cream, sprinkle with chopped pistachio nuts and serve well chilled.

RENOVATING AN OLD ORCHARD

Ground Should Be Broken Between Trees and Sown to Some Quick-Growing Crop.

Where there is a mat of grass and weeds in an old orchard the ground should be broken between the trees, taking care not to approach too closely to the trunks for fear of injuring the tangle of roots that usually run near the surface. For the first year after the orchard's renovation the strips that are plowed should be sown in cowpeas or some other quick-growing crop.

The aeration of the soil is the principal thing that is sought through this cultivation. It should be kept up for a couple of years, and where it is possible to do so the ground should be broken sufficiently to seed a cover crop.

Of course, all dead and diseased wood should be taken out. It will interfere with spraying and picking as well as offering a harboring place for all manner of insects and tree enemies. During the work of renovation all hanging bark, clinging loosely to the trees, should be pulled away and burned.

The weeds and trash that have gathered around the trunks of trees should be pulled away and burned with trash, dead limbs and other debris. All these things shelter hibernating orchard enemies, and by burning them the bugs and lice are destroyed.

GERMAN SPOKEN IN BALKANS

Russian Journalist Says Allies Have No Chance for Diplomatic Victory There.

Petrograd, Nov. 20.—A Russian journalist who recently returned from a trip through the Balkan states says:

"It is impossible for the Allies to win diplomatic victories in the Balkans The Germans have the upper hand everywhere and the ambassadors of the Entente Powers are surrounded by German employes, many of whom undoubtedly are spies. German is the diplomatic language in all the Balkan capitals.

"Foreign diplomats who call at the American embassy at Bucharest are politely asked by the private secretary of Minister Vopicka to address this gentleman in German, as he does not speak French. The Minister of the United States, like his confidential secretary, is a Czoch, but he uses the German language in his conferences with the representatives of other nations."

ONE OBJECT IN CULTIVATION

It Best Conserves Moisture and Liberates Plant Food, Conditions Making Good Growth.

The main object in the cultivation of a young orchard is to secure the fastest, thriftiest possible growth of the trees without unduly endangering them from disease attacks, or from winter killing occasioned by going into the winter in an immature condition. Continuous cultivation throughout the growing season best conserves moisture and liberates plant food. These conditions make for a splendid growth in young trees. A good supply of humus should be kept in the soil of a young orchard at all times, by dressing with stable manure or growing and working in green manure crops.

The best tool for working a young orchard is an extension reversible disk, of the ordinary or the cutaway type. This allows working up close to and under low-headed trees, without injury to their trunks. A spring tooth harrow may take the place of the disk, but cannot be gotten so close to the trees without injury to them.

Harrow as free as possible from projecting parts, and short singletrees should always be used in orchard culture.

On "Back to the Soil With Wall Street"

When Wall Street wants good business men she usually goes back to the soil to get them. That financial thoroughfare is said to be honeycombed with men who have plowed barefooted, who have drunk branch water, eaten cornbread and molasses and slept on the floor in their early days. A man is more capable of holding the reins of business who knows how to drive a team of mules, shear a sheep or put a ring in a shoat's nose. A man is better equipped to meet the problems of life who in his youth has walked the log across the creek to get to school, courted the girls at husking bees and pitched horse shoes Saturday afternoon. A man who has spent the moonlight nights of his youth possum hunting, going to protracted meetings and occasionally turning down the community at a spelling match has the right sort of stuff in him to make a good business man. The active officials of most of the large business organizations of America it is said were, with a very few exceptions, raised on the farm, and could swim the creek, pitch hay, chop wood, milk the cows or slop the hogs as easily as they can run world-wide business institutions.

The farmers look to these capable and loyal sons of the soil to assist in the solution of the business problems of agriculture. Wall Street is reputed to be capable of financing everything from a Y. M. C. A. to a war, so why not finance agriculture? It is not sufficient to lend money to a correspondent to lend to a local banker, to lend to a broker to lend to a merchant, to lend to the landlord to lend to a farmer. Such a financial system sounds like the house that Jack built, and is just about as useful. Neither is assistance complete when money is furnished buyers to "move the crop." What the farmer wants is money to hold the crop. What better security is there than a warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton, a sack of wheat or a bushel of corn and why will such securities not travel by the side of government bonds?

The American farmer is a capable plowman. He always has filled and always will fill the nation's granary, larder and wardrobe, but he has nothing to say in fixing the price of his products. The problem confronting the farmers of this nation today is marketing and its solution depends first upon the farmer organizing for concert of action and the co-operation of the financial interests in marketing the crop. Agriculture is the biggest business in America and the only one that has not a financial system adapted to its use.

TELLS OF ELECTRIC COOKING

Publication of University of Missouri Emphasizes Convenience of Preparing Food in Electric Oven.

That the housewife can prepare her evening meal for the following day, place it in an electric oven, go for an overnight and all day's visit find it just ready to serve when she returns home at 6 o'clock the next evening is the possibility intimated by the Engineering Experiment Station of the University of Missouri at Columbia in a recent bulletin, "The Economics of Electric Cooking."

The electric cooker will work without attention and a special apparatus will provide for switching off the current automatically at the time it is desired. The art of cooking will become a science with the full use of the electric oven, the bulletin says. Cook books will not say, "cook until done," or "leave in a moderate oven," or "according to judgment," but will state how long and at what temperature it is to be cooked, while the electric cooker may be depended upon to cook it in that way without attention.

The present lack of definite rules for cooking is due to lack of control over temperatures, the M. U. investigator says. The electric oven will give full control over the heat. With little trouble, high temperatures may be changed after bread is baked to a low temperature for cooking meats and vegetables. Pre-heating losses also would be reduced to a minimum.

The cost o fcooking by electricity in many places in Missouri is a little greater than the cost of cooking by gas. Wood or coal heating is usually more wasteful than either gas or electricity. The greater convenience of the electric oven, says the booklet, ought to more than compensate for the slight addition to expense.

The bulletin points out that the defect of all ovens now on the market is improper insulation. Most of them are built to please the eye rather than to properly control the heat. The best electric oven is the small one, properly insulated and giving full control over temperature regulations.

Housewives or electric lighting companies interested in electric ovens may have the bulletin sent them by addressing the Engineering Experiment Station, University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.

ONE OF 10 COUNTIES

NODAWAY SUNDAY SCHOOLS TOOK HIGH RANK.

MISS EVA DAVIS RETURNS

Tells of Very Successful Convention in St. Louis Attended by 1,461 Delegates—"Forward" is Motto.

Miss Eva M. Davis, secretary of the Nodaway County Sunday School association and the county's representative at the state convention in St. Louis, returned last night from attending the meeting.

She reports that the convention was attended by 1,461 delegates from 73 counties and the three large cities, all of whom were very enthusiastic about the program, which was arranged and the way it was carried out. It was the greatest convention clearly, she said.

Beside being one of the first twenty-two counties in the front line honors of the association, Nodaway county was one of ten which attained the standard set for elementary work. A pennant was sent to Miss N. Elizabeth Evans, county elementary superintendent.

Twenty-three counties have been organized this year. The three state workers have made twenty tours of a week each, thus reaching 98 of the 114 counties. Ninety-three are now organized. Fourteen efficiency meetings were conducted.

$3,000 Raised at Convention.

One of the fine things of the convention was the raising of $3,000 in the executive committee to pay off the debt which had arisen from deficits in the state work. The treasurer's report announced all bills paid and $485 in the funds. A strong appeal was made for better financial support from the live counties to help carry on the work where there is less enthusiasm. Two more field workers are badly needed.

The climax of the convention was reached Thursday night when an illustrated lecture on the famous Sunday schools of America was given. The singing was led by a large chorus and orchestra from the St. Louis churches. Dr. Frank G. Smith of Kansas City spoke on the motto for the coming year, "Forward."

The "jubilee" banquet celebrating the anniversary of the first state convention held in St. Louis fifty years ago was one of the most enjoyable features of the week. A poem, "Mother," written by one of the delegates and sung at this banquet, attracted much attention.

Two of the most important measures considered by the Missouri State Sunday School association during its golden jubilee convention, which ended Thursday night at the Third Baptist church in St. Louis was the question of uniform graded lessons for Sunday schools and the credit for Bible study to high school graduates.

Dr. J. H. George of Springfield, Mo., former president of Drury college, recommended to the convention that the executive committee appoint a special committee to confer with the officers of the Missouri Teachers' association, and to devise a plan for the giving of such credits. He said in part:

"In North Dakota the plan has been worked out, and is more than in its experimental stage. Protestants, Catholics and Jews entered into a plan of promoting out-of-school study of the Bible as literature for high school credits. In Colorado and Indiana, especially in Gary, plans for credit in high schools have been adopted, which involve the study of the Bible not only as literature, but also for distinctly religious purposes.

Must Standardize Sunday Schools.

"The Colorado plan provides for a four-year elective course of Bible study for high school students, which shall be adapted to the unfolding life of the pupils correlated with the curriculum of the high schools. These courses of study are to be given by the respective churches, Hebrew, Catholic and Protestant alike, at the Sunday school hour, if possible, and under instruction of qualified teachers.

"Pupils successfully completing the course of study shall receive academic credit for the work done. The plan is clearly within the law. No state or public school building is used for religious instruction. No state funds are used. No religious instruction is given by public school teachers during school hours. Each denomination, each sect is, therefore, privileged to impart instruction to its own children, and according to its own canons of interpretation.

"This plan necessitates the standardization of our Sunday schools. If the pupils are to receive academic credit for work done in Sunday schools, these schools must conform to academic standards of education."

The officers of the Missouri Sunday School association were elected to succeed themselves for the year of 1915-16.

NORMAL ANNUAL WANTED

Question Is Giving Seniors All Kinds of Discussions—To Be 1915-16 Crowning Glory.

Many of the members of the senior class at the Normal are anxious for the publication of a first annual. The Green and White Courier publishes the following editorial appeal in their issue out yesterday:

To those who have been watching the progress of Number Five it was evident that the year 1915-16 was to see the beginning of many new things which would place our school in the front rank of the schools of this or any other state of the middle west.

The years 1914-15 and 16 have meant much to Number Five and what we now need, to serve as a grand climax to all the past achievements, is a good, live annual, one that will stand the test of the most severe criticism.

The question, "Shall we put out an annual?" is one over which the Senior class has had many heated yet enthusiastic discussions and as a result they have decided that it can be done. They are aware of the fact that to get out a good annual is a task that is realized by very few people and one which requires the support not only of every class but indeed of every individual in school.

The Seniors also know that it will cost money, and that it will mean an almost endless amount of labor but they feel that for the good of the school they are ready to bear their part of the expense and do their share of the work.

The time to get ready for this annual is here. It is NOW. But in doing this the Seniors must feel that they have the support and co-operation of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Alumni.

This annual will not only be of interest to us at the present but we will find that in the years to come, when we dig it out, dust-covered, from some obscure corner of the garret, it will contain treasures unspeakable. It will carry our memories back to the best days of our life—to the dear old days at Number Five during the years 1915-16 and will reveal faces of friends, with whom we have parted, perhaps, forever.

Since this annual is to mean so much to us in the present and in the future let us one and all talk for it, push for it, pray for it, and in the end BUY it. Let us add the crowning glory to Number Five in the year 1915-16—her first annual.

5 TEAMS TO SPEAK

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES WILL DISCUSS UNION.

PLANNED BY PRESIDENTS

Three Speakers Will Lead Service Tomorrow On Federation Theme—Permanent Next Tuesday.

The Union of Young People's societies will be the topic for discussion in each of the young people's meeting tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock. A team of three will go from other churches to each society to lead the discussion.

The purpose for organizing such a union, the definite objects toward which the federation of societies may turn their efforts and the need for each individual member of the societies getting alive on the need and privilege of such a union will be the chief topics discussed.

The Christian Endeavor at the Christian church, the Young People's club at the Presbyterian church, and the league of the Buchanan Street Methodist church have adopted the constitution which was drawn up by the temporary organization committee. The presidents and the representatives of the societies will meet next Tuesday night in the pastor's study of the Buchanan Street Methodist church for permanent organization.

The personnel of the teams which will visit each society tomorrow night is: At Christian church, Virgil Hartness, Jeanette Mutz and Joseph Farmer; at Baptist, Ed W. Gray, Miss Mary Rooker and Phillip Colbert; at Buchanan Street Methodist, Miss Bertha Anderson, Miss Edna O'Neal and Ray Davis; at First Methodist, Vernon Nash, Mrs. E. B. Burnett and Martin Lewis, Jr.; at Presbyterian, I. B. Williams, Miss Helen Gilson and Glen Borchers.

The teams will merely lead the discussion at the beginning of the service, after which a general expression of opinion and criticism will be called for from the members of the societies. The first named on the teams will be the leader of the meeting.

JACKSON BEST ACRE YIELD

Thirty-Nine Contested for Best Ten Ears With Exhibits Which Filled Lobby.

Tobe Hannah won the $40 silver loving cup offered by the State Bank of Barnard in their annual corn exposition for the best ten ears. Mate Kissinger won second prize of $8.

The next most-sought-after prize was the $20 for the best acre yield. Pearl J. Jackson won the gold piece with a yield of 86 bushels and 50 pounds. Carl Hartman was second with 74 bushels and 5 pounds, and was given $8.

Thirty-nine entries were brought in for the best ten ears of corn, and four tried for the acre yield. The other two in the acre yield were Jim Clark with 69 bushels and 63 pounds, winning $4. J. E. Snyder won $2 with 59 bushels and 10 pounds.

S. F. Dunn won $4 for third prize in the contest for the best ten ears, and D. N. Hoshor was fourth and won $2.

The contest was open to everyone living in Grant or White Cloud townships and a strip two miles wide off the east side of Hughes township. The entry lists closed this afternoon

John A. Fields, cashier, is the leading spirit in the affair. The entries used up the available room in the lobby of the bank.

L. D. RAMSAY ON ATCHISON BENCH

Only Criminal Cases at This Term of Circuit Court.

Owing to the illness of Judge W. C. Ellison the November term of the Atchison county circuit court will handle only the criminal cases docketed for this term, all other cases will be postponed until next term, as will also the grand jury.

The petit jury has been called for the second day of the regular term, and L. D. Ramsay of the Rock Port bar has been appointed to hold down the bench in Judge Ellison's place. Only the criminal cases of the three prisoners now confined in the county jail will be disposed of.—Atchison County Journal.

THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR BAND

Clearmont Women Will Pay for New Uniforms.

The wives and mothers of the band boys will give a general dinner in the Weber building on Thanksgiving day, the proceeds to be given the band to defray their expenses and procure uniforms.

The band boys are preparing to give another musicale on Wednesday evening, December 1. Their musicale a few weeks ago pleased every one and should insure them a full house.—Clearmont News.

Carters Move to Guilford.

W. I. Carter and family left Monday for Guilford, where they will make their future home, according to the Conception Courier. Wit, as he is familiarly known, was raised near Clyde and has been engaged in serving on the rural free delivery service out of Clyde and Conception Junction for the past eleven years, and was a general favorite with the patrons of the routes served by him. He will serve the new route lately surveyed from Guilford.

Swinehart Referees Football Game.

H. P. Swinehart of the Normal faculty returned this morning from Albany, where he refereed a football game between the high schools of Albany and Stanberry. NO PROBE OF MILLER FIRE

Savannah Court Hears That Rumors Around Death of William Gurdyke Are Just Gossip.

The following report in the Savannah Reporter indicates that an investigation of the Charles Miller fire, near Whitesville, will not be made by the grand jury at Savannah.

Those living in the neighborhood of the Miller home say that there could be nothing brought up before the grand jury and that all these rumors are without foundation.

That William Gurdyke had over five hundred dollars on his person that night, that he had it because he was reputed to be a gambler, that because he slept in the northeast room and his body after the fire was found in the southeast room, that because of all this it was rumored that he was killed for his money and the house burned to conceal it are the stories told to some one who listens and tells them again.

Those of that community are sure there is nothing whatever that could be brought before the grand jury.

PORK BARREL DEFENDED

ADVOCATES CALL HARBOR AND RIVER WORK BULWARK.

As Much Defense as Any of Preparedness and Fight Will Be Made For Improvements.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Advocates of river and harbor improvements announce that they will make a strong fight coupled with the plans for national defense and preparedness in the coming congress.

The so-called "pork barrel," instead of being a grab for individual congressmen and a medium of waste, is really a bulwark of defense, its advocates assert.

CONQUESTCOMPLETE

BIG GUNS ON GALLIPOLI

Early Victory by Germany Seen by Berlin in Dardanelles—Russians May Cross Roumania.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Nov. 20.—Every city and town of importance in Servia, with the exception of Nhrda, are now in the possession of the Teutonic allies.

South Monastir and Kesturum have fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians, who are making furious efforts to press the Serbs-Anglo-French forces into Greece in order to precipitate a situation so as to cause Greece to take decisive action.

Vienna and Bucharest reports are to the effect that the Servians are surrounded on three sides and retreat seriously menaced by the advance of the Teutons.

Sofia reports officially that the attacks of the Bulgarians in southeastern Servia have compelled the French to retreat.

German Guns to Dardanelles.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—German guns of large caliber have reached Constantinople and are being sent to Gallipoli. Military experts forsee early ending of the Dardanelles campaign in favor of the Teutons, and already preparations for an active offensive on another front by the Teutons are being made.

Roumania to Permit Passage.

Bucharest, Nov. 20.—In a statement today, former Minister of War Filipesco says that Roumania will permit Russian troops to cross Roumanian territory if they are in sufficient numbers to cope with the armies which are assailing the Servians.

It was added that a large Russian army would probably arrive at the frontier in a fortnight.

Steady Progress for Italians.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—Private advices say that the Italian army is steadily progressing along the Issonzo front.

Portuguese Cabinet Quits.

Lisbon, Nov. 20.—All members of the cabinet of Portugal, except Premier Castro have resigned. The president has asked the prime minister to form another cabinet.

London, Nov. 20.—Military experts believe that the next offensive of the Teutonic forces will be a renewed effort to break through to Paris again if they are successful in the Dardanelles.

London, Nov. 20.—A French transport with cavalry and eight hundred troops were sunk in the Mediterranean sea by a German submarine.

Kansas City Now 375,620.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Kansas City, Nov. 20.—The population of Kansas City is now 375,620, according to a new city directory which is just been issued. This is an increase for the year of 8,481.

Stromboli's Eruptions Increasing.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Catania, Italy, Nov. 20.—The eruptions of Stromboli, on Sicily, are increasing in violence, and molten lava is flowing into the sea.

Italy Doesn't Accuse Germany.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Ambassador Page cables from Rome that the Italian government does not make the claim that the submarine which sank the Ancona was a German U-boat.

Largest Circulation in Nodaway County

Announcement.

We are authorized to announce Robert I. Young of Buchanan county, as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fourth district subject to the primary election to be held August 8, 1916.

St. Joe has had another dollar day. Where are our guineas?

The geese and ducks are going south. The chickens will wait until summer and go to Atlantic City.

The public utilities commission and the state law don't seem to be able to agree on railroad rates.

Justice Hughes don't seem to be able to associate justice and a Republican presidential nomination.

The allies are doing a lot of stewing, but they are not getting much Greece.

Since their big duck feed, the Missouri "Tigers" have been showing great strength and fattening up their averages. They defeated Drake, you know.

A good many young people, in their haste to get married overlook the item of preparedness. When want makes a landing and attacks an unfortified larder, peace is sometimes difficult to maintain.

There are evidences that Congressman Kitchin may have so much objecting to do in his capacity as an individual that he won't have much time to act as leader of the majority in the next congress. Mr. Kitchin is, of course, entitled to views of his own and is to be admired for independent thought, but in his capacity as majority leader he must lead, and not balk, if he is to maintain party coherence and party success. In the past congress Oscar Underwood and Champ Clark frequently differed from the president's views on the details or advisability of a measure, but when it came to the floor of the house they were always on the firing line battling for harmony and party solidarity.

Of the twenty-two counties which were accorded the "front line" rank by the Missouri state Sunday school organization, it is worthy of note that five of those counties are in this, the fourth congressional district. They are Andrew, Atchison, Holt, Nodaway and Platte. If Buchanan had only been good, too, the district would have been complete. However, since the remaining seventeen counties are divided among fifteen other districts, it is easy to see that we of this district have broken the record and are entitled to feel elated at the distinction. Our children at least are setting an example for the balance of the state.

WINTER QUARTERS SHOULD BE CLEAR AND WARM.

WORMS GREAT DANGER

Recommendations for Ridding Fowls of Parasites Given by Experiment Station of Missouri.

At this time of the year when preparation is being made for the winter housing of poultry, one must consider both the proper construction of the buildings and the future physical condition of his birds.

The ultimate strength and vitality of a fowl depend upon the cleanliness and the healthfulness of the organs through which the food passes on its journey through the body of the fowl. If injury should occur to the delicate cells which line the organs of digestion and absorption, the physical condition is affected and vitality is lowered which means eventually sickness and disease. Roup, Canker and even the dread scourge of White Diarrhea may take hold of the fowls, especially those of lowered vitality, with the result that loss follows.

The small cells lining the organs of digestion and absorption, especially those cells lining the intestines often are ruptured to a very marked degree, by the presence of worms. Ruptured cells mean the loss of the function of these cells. That is, the cells are not able to perform their duties to secrete juices which digest the food, and consequently a large amount of the food eaten is not utilized by the fowl. It follows then that birds which are infested with worms do not derive the full nutrient value of the food. If worms are present they have to be fed and the food thus eaten is fed at the expense of the fowl. It is easily seen that from every standpoint, the presence of worms is a losing proposition.

Healthy poultry, both inside and out, are able to ward off to a very marked degree the action of bacteria or bacterial poisons. Weakened poultry are not able to withstand or ward off the action of bacteria or bacterial poisons and consequently suffer.

When it is pointed out that there are no fewer than thirty-six (36) species of worms living as parasites within fowls, it will be seen that these parasites are innurious to the fowls. Worms may develop directly from the eggs of the worms or they may go through various and complicated changes. They are found in every conceivable locality.

The general health and physical condition of a fowl may be judged to a certain extent by observing carefully the color of the bird's comb, eyes, wattles, etc., but birds apparently in the best of health, may have worms in their intestines in small numbers and after awhile, owing to the growth of these worms, the physical condition of the bird will change. The bird that was apparently in the best of health soon is on the sick list. It may take weeks or even months before a change in the physical condition of the bird becomes apparent, but once the worms gain the upper hand, the birds become subject to colds, and colds becoming deep seated, the loss of the bird is sure to follow.

In view of these facts, it is advisable and strongly recommended that the fowls should be given a thorough cleansing out before being placed in winter quarters. Where individual treatment cannot be resorted to the flock may be treated in the following manner:

Measure out just enough mash, all that the fowls will thoroughly clean up at one time. Moisten the mash with water and add to the mash one teaspoonful of Oil of American Wormseed (Jerusalem Oak) and one teaspoonful of turpentine, for every twelve fowls. Mix the ingredients thoroughly.

Before feeding the mash, the birds should be starved for at least twelve hours. We recommend feeding a light ration the night before and then in the morning no difficulty will be experienced in having the fowls eat the treated mash. Ordinarily if the fowls are not very hungry, they will not eat the mash for the taste of oil of wormseed and the turpentine is not pleasant. Feed the treated mash again in the evening of the same day. On the morning of the second day, a dose of Epsom salts should be given. The salts may be given in a mash. Dissolve six (6) teaspoonfuls of Epsom salts for every twelve fowls in just enough water to moisten the mash. The amount of mash used varies according to the breed of fowls and to the individual attendant. Moisten the mash with this water and then feed.—Missouri Poultry Experiment Station.

A saloon keeper in an argument against the wets and charging them with winninw an election by buying negro votes is the unusual spectacle at Moberly. The letter of the liquor man, who spoke for the drys during the election, follows in part:

To the editor of the Republic: In answer to an article which appeared in your paper yesterday I desire to say that I have been a subscriber for years, and that the informant of the article which I mention above was on his high horse when he put 52 lines with a heading in two and one-half inches and mailed it for your publication. It is a fact that I am always broke, and always need money, but I am paying more taxes than he does and maybe more than any other saloon man in town.

I did not say that I would close my saloon, but told my audience that if Moberly stays wet I would keep on selling until I got my price for the business; but would cheerfully close up January 1, 1916, with the rest of them if it went dry.

The deal which was pulled off at the Lyric hall at the eleventh hour Monday night among 400 or 500 colored voters saved the day for the saloons For most of them would have voted dry had it not been for the sack which was opened at the right hour, and there is no doubt but what it was opened, believe me.

Without their vote this old town of Moberly would have been dry today. Your informant left his rooster at home when he gave you the returns, as he only used seven lines. There was no holler coming with him. In 1908 there were 2,343 votes cast. The wets captured 1,608 and the drys 735, a majority for the wets of 873. Last Tuesday there were 3,113 votes cast, the wets got 1,811 and the drys 1,302, which left a measly majority for the wets of 509.

You wets should sure thank your colored voters, as they pulled you out of the drouth, but not until you came across at the last minute.

CHILD LABOR BILL AGAIN

Women's Club Indorse Provision to Prohibit Interstate Commerce of Goods Made by Children.

Three state federations of women's clubs went on record in one week as favoring the federal bill to prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of child-made goods. They were the Pennsylvania, Indiana and New Jersey Federation representing more than 15,000 women.

The action taken by these women is the direct result of the national child labor committee's second campaign for a federal child labor law. The bill which the committee has drafted will be introduced in congress early in December and is similar in form to the Palmer-Owen bill which passed the House of Rrepresentatives last year by an overwhelming majority but was defeated in the senate by the objection of Senator Overman of North Carolina. If the bill passes it will prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of goods in the production of which children under 14 have been employed in factories, or under 16 more than 8 hours a day or at night, or under 16 in mines or quarries.

Endorsements and offers of cooperation from organizations and individuals are daily pouring into the offices of the national child labor committee and the committee is confident that the bill will be passed by the next congress.

GOOD ROADS HELP SCHOOLS

Improved Highways and Schoolmaster Are Two Greatest Forces for Advanced Civilization.

Women are keenly interested in the schools. The country having good roads nearly always has good schools. They go together. Where children are forced to cross fields to avoid mud holes in the highways the school is usually hardly worth keeping open. It has been said that "the two greatest forces for the advancement of civilization are the schoolmaster and good roads."

Bad roads in this country are said to be responsible for a loss of a billion dollars a year. This affects the transportation, mercantile and industrial interests as well as the purely agricultural interests. This loss in dollars does not take account of the isolation that is caused by the same reason.

Many women in the country are practically prisoners in their homes for weeks at a time in winter because of the condition of the roads. They are unable to see to the marketing of the farm products. They are unable to take advantage of market conditions. Eggs that are a good price at the time when they are gathered are collected and held till the roads become passable. By that time a change in the market may have robbed them of several dollars that would have been theirs had they been able to get the produce to market.

The First Thanksgiving.

The first fixed and official day of Thanksgiving was held in the year 1665. In the old public records of the court of Connecticut we find the following order which the court issued on October 12, 1665, appointing a day of general thanksgiving:

"This court doth appoint a solemn day of Thanksgiving to be kept throughout this colony on the last Wednesday of November, to return praise to God for His great mercy to us in the continuation of our liberties and privileges both civil and ecclesiastic, and for our peace and preventing those troubles that we feared by foreign enemies and for the blessings in the fruits of the earth and the general health of the plantations."

It will be noted that the appointed day was Wednesday instead of Thursday, as we now celebrate. The spelling is odd in many cases.—Parnell Sentinel.

BUSINESS BOOMING

CASH REGISTER PRESIDENT TELLS OF PROSPERITY.

PRAISES NEW SYSTEMS

John H. Patterson Has Just Signed Big Advertising Contract—Advises Merchants Likewise.

Dayton, Ohio, November 20.—In the convention of salesmen of the National Cash Register Company, gathered here from all parts of this continent, reports were made indicating the general improvement of business everywhere. Out of the eight hundred salesmen present, all but one said that his territory was moving fast toward a business boom.

On the basis of these reports, John H. Patterson, president and general manager of the Cash Register Company, predicted that the approaching era of prosperity would probably exceed anything this country has ever known.

As a preface to his remarks, he reviewed the business depression of the previous two years. This, he said, had affected all lines—agriculture, mining, industry, commerce and finance.

"Now," he continued, "the boom is on. Agricultural interests are the first to feel it. The farmers have record breaking crops, with a big demand. Confidence has been re-established. Various industries have picked up, one after another. Then the stores needed goods, and factory wheels began to move. Then commerce and transportation reflected the change. Finally, it was manifest in the financial world. We have plenty of money and the best banking system in the world today.

"We have three big federal organizations taking care of these various interests: First, the Interstate Commerce Commission; then came the Federal Trade Commission; and finally, the Federal Reserve Board, with its chain of reserve banks. The value of these three boards or commissions to the country cannot be estimated.

"Through the aid of the reserve banks, the various banking institutions of the country began to loan money where people could not get it before. Now, with big crops and big demands, with little foreign competition, we are at the commencement of an era of prosperity such as this country has never seen before.

"All this great prosperity cannot come in a day, it will take time. But conditions everywhere are improving. The farmers are prosperous, the mills of Pittsburg are busier than ever before. Railroad stocks are going up. It is only a question of a short time before the wave of prosperity will be upon us.

"Now is the time for the storekeepers to advertise," added Mr. Patterson. He is backing up his opinion with his money. His company is spending more than $200,000 this month for advertising.

MOTHER, DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is ofttimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

GROUP OF SALADS.

A very pretty and simple salad is prepared by coring, then peeling, good-shaped apples; slice in thin slices and dip in a well-seasoned French dressing; lay on lettuce or cress and fill the center with chopped nuts and celery mixed with dressing and garnish the top of each with a small round ball of cream cheese.

Beet Salad.—Slice cooked beets very thin and place on the white leaves of lettuce. Put the yolks of six hard-cooked eggs through a ricer and make a garnish for the beets; chop the whites very fine and arrange around the yolks. Serve with boiled dressing.

Eastern Salad.—Cook four eggs hard; remove the shells and cut the egg in slices, removing the yolk; rub the yolk to a paste; add gradually two tablespoonfuls of oil, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, salt and cayenne to taste. Mix lightly into this dressing a cupful of grated cheese and a cupful of finely chopped chicken. Garnish with the rings of egg whites. Serve in lettuce nests.

Spinach Salad.—Boil a pint of spinach until tender, drain and press out; remove the water; chop fine; add horse-radish, oil and salt to season. Pack in small custard cups or timbie molds; allow it to get chilled. Serve on lettuce leaves with dressing and garnish with hard-cooked whites of eggs, which have been cut in eighths to resemble daisy petals.

Marine Salad.—Scoop out the inside of unpeeled cucumbers to resemble a small green boat. Chop the pulp fine and mix with an equal quantity of chopped onion; season with French dressing or any boiled dressing, fill the boat and with a toothpick place the place card to resemble a sail.

Pea and Pickle Salad.—Take a can of green peas, a cupful of chopped peanuts and six sour pickles, also chopped. Drain the liquor from the peas, add the nuts and pickles and any good salad dressing. Serve on crisp heart leaves of lettuce.

PREVENT INJURY FROM WIRES

Constantly Increasing Use of Electricity Proving Great Menace to Various Kinds of Trees.

(By GEORGE E. STONE.)

The increase in electric railroads, electric lighting systems and telephone lines, whose wires are usually located near the tree belts of our cities and towns has made necessary a lamentable amount of disfiguring pruning.

Of all the troubles with which tree wardens have to contend the wire problem is often regarded as the worst. Notwithstanding the strict laws which some states have adopted in regard to injuring shade trees, the agents of some public-service corporations often have little regard for trees or the laws respecting them. Where 40-foot poles must carry the wires of three or four public-service corporations there can be little or no opportunity to preserve the natural symmetry of shade trees, especially when low branching maples and other trees are planted on the same side of the street with the wires. There is less interference from limbs with low than with high-tension wires. Trees like the elm, whose branches form acute angles offer less obstruction to wires than maples; but not all streets, of course, are planted with elms, which may be as well, considering their susceptibility to various pests and unfavorable climatic conditions.

Showing Different Methods of Attaching Wires to Trees: a, Wire Attached to Lagball, Tree Protected by Wooden Blocks; z, Cross Section of Same; b, Wire Loops Placed Tightly Around Tree, Causing Girdling; f, Sling Attachment of Trolley Guy Wires; j, Loose Loop Fastened With Clamps and Separated From Tree by Blocks; e, Cross Section of Same; o, Creosoted Oak Blocks With Groove, to Support the Wire.

Wires often accidentally come into contact with trees by the displacement of poles, particularly on curves, where the strain is very great, but much of this injury may be prevented by imbedding the poles in Portland cement. It should be pointed out that the necessity for guying poles to trees may be obviated in this way.

SUMMER DISHES.

There is no dessert more popular than the frozen one, in fact almost any combination is welcome after it has been through the freezer.

Orange Sherbet.—Beat one egg lightly, add it to a quart of milk, and a pint of cream. Dissolve two and a half cupfuls of sugar in the juice of three oranges and one lemon. Add the grated rind of three oranges and one lemon, mix and freeze.

Lemon Dumplings.—Chop the rind of one lemon fine, add it to the juice, mix two cupfuls of bread crumbs with a cupful of suet, add one egg and enough milk to make a paste, sweeten to taste, divide into five portions and place in separate cloths. Boil three quarters of an hour and serve with butter and honey.

Stuffed Mutton.—Take a four pound breast of mutton and put to cook with one turnip, a carrot and two onions. Grate half of each vegetable into the stew and slice the rest. Cover with water and simmer one hour. Prepare a stuffing of bread, chopped onion, suet, sage, salt and pepper, bind with milk. Take out the mutton, carefully remove the bones and place the stuffing in, roll up and tie with a string. Put into a baking dish with some halved potatoes and bake for half an hour.

Individual Cream Chicken.—Take a tablespoonful of minced chicken, season with a pinch of minced parsley and a squeeze of lemon. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with a spoonful of cream. Put into a ramekin, cover and steam in hot water. Serve on a hot plate with crisp buttered toast and small pats of sweet butter rolled in parsley.

Gooseberry Dessert.—Cook slowly a quart of gooseberries with a cupful of brown sugar in a stone dish in the oven. Arrange slices of sponge cake in a dish, pour over the cooked berries a custard made of a cupful of milk, an egg, a pinch of salt and a tablespoonful of sugar. When cold cover with sweetened whipped cream, sprinkle with chopped pistachio nuts and serve well chilled.

You Can Send Every Friend a Christmas Greeting and the Cost Will be so Small that You Will Scarcely Notice it.

Think of sending every one of your friends, no matter how far away, a Christmas Greeting, to remind them that you still remember and are glad to send a reminder.

Original Christmas Cards and Greetings were in big favor last year and will be more so this year.

Last year we were rushed with orders on Christmas Greeting Cards. This year we want everybody to be able to get them.

Any original Christmas Greeting you may select, with your own name and the latest designs. This makes a more personal greeting and at less cost than those already in stocks,

Cards used last year by Maryville folks and many new designs to select from. You should make your selection as soon as possible in order to have them in time for mailing.

RENOVATING AN OLD ORCHARD

Ground Should Be Broken Between Trees and Sown to Some Quick-Growing Crop.

Where there is a mat of grass and weeds in an old orchard the ground should be broken between the trees, taking care not to approach too closely to the trunks for fear of injuring the tangle of roots that usually run near the surface. For the first year after the orchard's renovation the strips that are plowed should be sown in cowpeas or some other quick-growing crop.

The aeration of the soil is the principal thing that is sought through this cultivation. It should be kept up for a couple of years, and where it is possible to do so the ground should be broken sufficiently to seed a cover crop.

Of course, all dead and diseased wood should be taken out. It will interfere with spraying and picking, as well as offering a harboring place for all manner of insects and tree enemies. During the work of renovation all hanging bark, clinging loosely to the trees, should be pulled away and burned.

The weeds and trash that have gathered around the trunks of trees should be pulled away and burned with trash, dead limbs and other debris. All these things shelter hibernating orchard enemies, and by burning them the bugs and lice are destroyed.

GERMAN SPOKEN IN BALKANS

Russian Journalist Says Allies Have No Chance for Diplomatic Victory There.

Petrograd, Nov. 20.—A Russian journalist who recently returned from a trip through the Balkan states says:

"It is impossible for the Allies to win diplomatic victories in the Balkans The Germans have the upper hand everywhere and the ambassadors of the Entente Powers are surrounded by German employes, many of whom undoubtedly are spies. German is the diplomatic language in all the Balkan capitals.

"Foreign diplomats who call at the American embassy at Bucharest are politely asked by the private secretary of Minister Vopicka to address this gentleman in German, as he does not speak French. The Minister of the United States, like his confidential secretary, is a Czoch, but he uses the German language in his conferences with the representatives of other nations."

ONE OBJECT IN CULTIVATION

It Best Conserves Moisture and Liberates Plant Food, Conditions Making Good Growth.

The main object in the cultivation of a young orchard is to secure the fastest, thriftiest possible growth of the trees without unduly endangering them from disease attacks, or from winter killing occasioned by going into the winter in an immature condition. Continuous cultivation throughout the growing season best conserves moisture and liberates plant food. These conditions make for a splendid growth in young trees. A good supply of humus should be kept in the soil of a young orchard at all times, by dressing with stable manure or growing and working in green manure crops.

The best tool for working a young orchard is an extension reversible disk, of the ordinary or the cutaway type. This allows working up close to and under low-headed trees, without injury to their trunks. A spring tooth harrow may take the place of the disk, but cannot be gotten so close to the trees without injury to them.

Harrow as free as possible from projecting parts, and short singletrees should always be used in orchard culture.

On "Back to the Soil With Wall Street"

When Wall Street wants good business men she usually goes back to the soil to get them. That financial thoroughfare is said to be honeycombed with men who have plowed barefooted, who have drunk branch water, eaten cornbread and molasses and slept on the floor in their early days. A man is more capable of holding the reins of business who knows how to drive a team of mules, shear a sheep or put a ring in a shoat's nose. A man is better equipped to meet the problems of life who in his youth has walked the log across the creek to get to school, courted the girls at husking bees and pitched horse shoes Saturday afternoon. A man who has spent the moonlight nights of his youth possum hunting, going to protracted meetings and occasionally turning down the community at a spelling match has the right sort of stuff in him to make a good business man. The active officials of most of the large business organizations of America it is said were, with a very few exceptions, raised on the farm, and could swim the creek, pitch hay, chop wood, milk the cows or slop the hogs as easily as they can run world-wide business institutions.

The farmers look to these capable and loyal sons of the soil to assist in the solution of the business problems of agriculture. Wall Street is reputed to be capable of financing everything from a Y. M. C. A. to a war, so why not finance agriculture? It is not sufficient to lend money to a correspondent to lend to a local banker, to lend to a broker to lend to a merchant, to lend to the landlord to lend to a farmer. Such a financial system sounds like the house that Jack built, and is just about as useful. Neither is assistance complete when money is furnished buyers to "move the crop." What the farmer wants is money to hold the crop. What better security is there than a warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton, a sack of wheat or a bushel of corn and why will such securities not travel by the side of government bonds?

The American farmer is a capable plowman. He always has filled and always will fill the nation's granary, larder and wardrobe, but he has nothing to say in fixing the price of his products. The problem confronting the farmers of this nation today is marketing and its solution depends first upon the farmer organizing for concert of action and the co-operation of the financial interests in marketing the crop. Agriculture is the biggest business in America and the only one that has not a financial system adapted to its use.

That the housewife can prepare her evening meal for the following day, place it in an electric oven, go for an overnight and all day's visit find it just ready to serve when she returns home at 6 o'clock the next evening is the possibility intimated by the Engineering Experiment Station of the University of Missouri at Columbia in a recent bulletin, "The Economics of Electric Cooking."

The electric cooker will work without attention and a special apparatus will provide for switching off the current automatically at the time it is desired. The art of cooking will become a science with the full use of the electric oven, the bulletin says. Cook books will not say, "cook until done," or "leave in a moderate oven," or "according to judgment," but will state how long and at what temperature it is to be cooked, while the electric cooker may be depended upon to cook it in that way without attention.

The present lack of definite rules for cooking is due to lack of control over temperatures, the M. U. investigator says. The electric oven will give full control over the heat. With little trouble, high temperatures may be changed after bread is baked to a low temperature for cooking meats and vegetables. Pre-heating losses also would be reduced to a minimum.

The cost o fcooking by electricity in many places in Missouri is a little greater than the cost of cooking by gas. Wood or coal heating is usually more wasteful than either gas or electricity. The greater convenience of the electric oven, says the booklet, ought to more than compensate for the slight addition to expense.

The bulletin points out that the defect of all ovens now on the market is improper insulation. Most of them are built to please the eye rather than to properly control the heat. The best electric oven is the small one, properly insulated and giving full control over temperature regulations.

Housewives or electric lighting companies interested in electric ovens may have the bulletin sent them by addressing the Engineering Experiment Station, University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.
